Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/10/2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Re. the independent claim 12 the term "adapted to" in preamble of claim 12 is a relative term, which renders the claim indefinite. The term "adapted to" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

The term "adapted to" does not limit the claim to a particular structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 5-6, 10, 12, 14-15, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nishikawa et al. US 6,507,411 B1.

1. Re. claim 1.

Nishikawa in figs. 10 and 11 illustrates a method of enlarging an image and (see Nishikawa in fig. 17 steps 17.4-17.6) printing an enlarged image, the method comprising: (Nishikawa in fig. 2 using the image data generated by the application 201) identifying an image file having an image to be enlarged and printed. Nishikawa at col. 15 lines 15-30 discloses determining the number of pixels of the image using the identified image file. Nishikawa at col. 15 lines 15-30 determines an enlargement ratio corresponding to the determined number of pixels. Nishikawa in fig. 18 steps 18.1-18.3 illustrates enlarging the image at the determined enlargement ratio and printing the enlarged image.

The rejection of claims 6, 12, and 15 is similar to the rejection of claim 1.

2. Re. claims 5, 10, 14, and 19. Nishikawa in fig. 17 step 17.3 clearly illustrates the feature of the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4,7-9, 11, 13, and 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nishikawa, and further in view of Ishizaka et al. US 2005/0052662 A1.

3. Re. claims 2, 3 and 7-8.

Nishikawa is silenced as to the image file identifying step further comprises selecting the image file. Ishizaka at paragraph 0006 discloses displaying or printing of such digital images with high quality has been demanded with distribution of digital cameras. It's obvious the digital camera has numerous image files. Re. claims 3 and 8, the digital camera can be considered as an outside source.

Thus, it would have been obvious to a person skill in the art to incorporate the digital images of Ishizaka into Nishikawa in order to obtain a selection of image files, because Ishizaka's processing method, and an image processing program for performing the enlargement processing using a computer, with Nishikawa's printing control for printing an image upon enlarging the same. It's very beneficial to selective user to locate the image file quickly.

- 4. Re. claims 16-17, the rejection is similar to the rejection of claims 2-3, and 7-8.
- 5. Re. claims 4, 9 and 13.

data obviously contains the number of pixels.

Art Unit: 2628

Nishikawa is silenced as to the number of pixels is extracted from header information stored in the identified image file. Ishizaka at paragraph 0006 discloses when the objective image is again formed from the set of the range block positions; coordinate conversion, and pixel value conversion, the operation of assigning the result of performing coordinate conversion and pixel value conversion to range block for any initial image to domain block is iterated. Ishizaka at

Thus, it would have been obvious to a person skill in the art to incorporate the enlarged image data storage section 58 of Ishizaka into Nishikawa in order to extract the number of pixels from header information stored in the identified image file, since Ishizaka's processing method, for storing the enlarged image data in storage section using a computer, and Nishikawa's printing control for printing an image upon enlarging the same. The user may quicker select the proper information on display.

paragraph 0117 teaches the enlarged image corresponding to the original image is stored in the enlarged image data storage section 58 and the enlarged image is updated. The enlarged image

- 6. Re. claim 11. Nishikawa is silenced about the features in claim 11, however, Ishizaka illustrates in table 1, under paragraph 0123. Thus, it would have been obvious to a person skill in the art to incorporate the enlarged image data storage section 58 of Ishizaka into Nishikawa in order to extract the number of pixels from header information stored in the identified image file, since Ishizaka's processing method, for storing the enlarged image data in storage section using a computer, and Nishikawa's printing control for printing an image upon enlarging the same. The user may quicker select the proper information on display.
- 7. Re. claim 18, the rejection is similar to the rejection of claim 4.
